THE BAN TO STAY ON

CLOSING ORDER WILL PROBABLY REMAIN IN FORCE NEXT WEEK

DANGER IS YET GRAVE

While Conditions Locally Remain Unchanged, Many New Cases Are Being Reported in Country.

That churches, schools, picture shows and meetings will be under the ban for at least another week seemed a certainty today with the influenza situation unchanged from yesterday.

"We are not going to consider lifting the closing order, at least for the present," said Dr. F. M. Ryan, city physician, this afternoon when asked if the ban would be lifted. We are facing a serious proposition," said Dr. Ryan, "and unless we take hold of it and fight it hard we may have a serious epidemic."

Dr. Ryan said that while there had been no material change in conditions locally, but one new case being reported this morning, that the greatest danger was from a spread of the epidemic from outside sources. "There are more cases in the country than in the towns," said Dr. Ryan, "and the people in the rural districts are not fumigating and quarantining against it. It is absolutely necessary, if we are to avoid a spread of the disease to observe the rules that have been given by the health boards and physicians."

Quoting the Evening Missourian (Columbia, Mo.)

"Spanish influenza, is the most treacherous disease I have dealt with in more than eleven years experience at nursing," said Miss Margaret G. Drumm, head nurse at the City Emergency Hospital, yesterday.

"A patient who is apparently improving may at any time have a rise in temperature to 103 to 104 degrees within a couple of hours. The heart is also affected in some cases."

IS A GREAT SPECTACLE.

Alva Burch Writes of Terrific Bombardment Before Going Over Top.

In a letter to home folks Corp. Alva M. Burch, Co. L, 356th Inft., writes under date of September 23 as follows:

"We went to the front and over the top since I wrote you last and have been at the front since, so you will understand the delay and not be alarmed. I guess you know what going over the top means. Well, we have been over and found it lots of sport, the start of which is very lively. It started with a fireworks which was terrific. I can hardly tell you what it was like in a letter and besides you would hardly think it possible and consequently not likely to believe it. At any rate it was so huge the whole heavens were ablaze, almost, and the noise was so great that hearing anything was out of the question except at close range and then only in a loud tone of voice. It is impossible for one who has not seen such things to realize what it is, but one who has been over the top once needs no explanation whatever. I am feeling fine."

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

TO RECLAIM DISMAL SWAMP

Engineers Have Long Had Their Eyes on Picturesque Wilderness Which Can Be Made Valuable.

Dismal Swamp, which lies just south of Norfolk, Va., partly in that state and partly in North Carolina, is one of the most picturesque wildernesses in the eastern United States. Although it may be reached from the busy port of Norfolk within a few hours by a boat which plies daily up and down a small canal, the Dismal Swamp remains an unspoiled wilderness where black bears and panthers still roam, while the smaller creatures of the wild exist in abundance.

The thick jungles and bottomless bogs at once offer perfect hiding places for the wild things and obstacles to the hunter which are often impassable. Then, too, the swamp is alive with snakes—the deadly copperhead and moccasin being especially abundant—and this fact alone detracts considerably from the popularity of the place as a pleasure resort.

It is nevertheless regularly visited by some hardy hunters, and is the delight of naturalists and scientists of all kinds, who here find what they most love—unspoiled, primitive nature.

The Dismal Swamp has great possibilities of future usefulness. In the first place, it contains some of the deepest and richest deposits of peat in the United States, and this fuel is undoubtedly to be used in this country in the near future. Furthermore, engineers say that the swamp can be drained, and that it will then become one of the richest bits of farmland in America. Indeed, one man has already demonstrated this by draining a few hundred acres of the swamp and raising phenomenal crops on it.—Chicago Daily News.

WORK ALONG WRONG LINES

Writer Points Out Imperative Need for Change in Present Legal and Charity Systems.

A change in our legal system must be made which will take account of the complex life of the present, as against the old-fashioned form of living, which brought with it temptation, greed and jealousy. Persons who, on account of wrong environment, have stooped to illegitimate means to attain their ends should be corrected, with discipline if you please, but not with brutal punishment. After correction they should have the chance to make an honest living; they should not be ostracized as at present, so that there is nothing else left for them to do but to return to a life of crime which sooner or later reaches the depths, when the state is forced to spend thousands and thousands for their upkeep.

The creation of beggars has never been due to the exercise of kindness. All beggars are made, more or less, by the charity system. With charity abolished and every individual understanding that we are all born to work and enjoy our work in accordance with our fitness for the work we are called upon to do, there will be no need of charity, and crime and disease will be lessened tremendously.—Editorial by Misha Appelbaum in Humanitarian.

"Shinplasters."

One of the curious forms of money to which the United States government has resorted was the "shinplaster currency." These bits of paper money were called "shinplasters" by reason of their size and not because of the use to which they were put. It was a strange condition of affairs which led to their issue. The Civil war had put a great strain on the finances of the United States. Metallic money grew scarce. In the first place it was exported and in the second place it was hoarded in vast sums. The government had issued "greenbacks" to take the place of silver dollars and five and ten dollar gold pieces, and as dimes, quarters and halves had also grown scarce it was decided to issue fractional paper currency. It was seriously needed, because there was great inconvenience throughout the country from a lack of small change. Merchants used postage stamps, tokens of various forms, their own "promises to pay" or script, and even buttons were employed as small change, to be later redeemed by the merchant in goods. It was to meet such conditions as these that the government issued small paper notes in denominations of 10, 25 and 50 cents.

TELLS OF LIFE IN FRANCE

Warren Breit, Former Normal Student, Writes Many Interesting Details From Cebezat.

Corporal Warren Breit now in active service in France has written the following very interesting account of army life in that country. He is with Battery A, 337th Field Artillery and the letter sent to a friend here was written at Cebezat, France. He is a former Normal student and a graduate of that school.

At present I am billeted in an old French village, about three miles from Clermont-Ferrand, a little to the south of the center of France. Paris is about 125 miles from here.

I am living in an old hotel, have one of the softest beds I've seen since I have been in the army. That is the main reason I like this place. The village itself must be hundreds of years old and, except for an electric light system, has remained unchanged. The inhabitants still wear wooden shoes, drive oxen to two-wheeled carts, and thresh their grain with a flail. There are some very picturesque scenes here. There are several chateaux around here with their large residences enclosed by a high wall and large gates. The houses have red tile roofs and look very quaint and attractive from a distance but rather lose their charm when approached near enough to see their untidy condition. The village is one of many in the valley surrounded by mountains. A view from the mountains must be splendid. The scenes here would make good material for sketches and paintings.

The French people are very friendly to us and are very willing to teach us French. By waving both arms and exerting all of my powers of expression I am usually able to make my wants known. My vocabulary grows slowly but if I am here long enough I hope to become fairly proficient.

The weather has been ideal here. It is just cool enough to be pleasant. The roads are all rock and do not get muddy when it rains. France would be a splendid country to motor thru as it has the reputation of having the finest roads in the world.

The railroads are not so well kept as those in England. The trains run much slower than our own. The cars are small and divided into compartments, each compartment holding eight persons, like those in England. Personally, I prefer American style.

Blackberries and grapes are ripe and taste mighty good. We can get large grapes similar to our own California grapes at about the same price.

Speaking of prices, wine and beer cost about the same here a sat home. I am told that champagne can be bought for 8 francs ($1.60) a quart. I can't verify the statement until after pay day.

Wine making is the important occupation here. Every other house has a parlor for serving it too. Our office is located in a deserted wine parlor and no doubt has been the scene of many an "all night party." I'd like to know the history of it just out of curiosity.

Women in England and France ride bicycles as much as they drive cars in America. French girls may be all right—I've seen two or three "stunners" but give me the American girl every time!

CHANGES MIND ABOUT GOING AWAY.

"Five years ago doctors told me I would have to move my wife to another climate, as she suffered so with stomach and liver trouble and bloating. Also, that she would have to have an operation for gall stones. Our mail carrier told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and, on his advice, she has taken it and is now as well as ever in her life." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Maryville Drug Co., and druggists everywhere. Adv.

Food Is Food, not Decoration.

How we used to waste food at Hallowe'en parties before the war!

We scooped out pumpkins to use the rinds for lanterns, and then wasted the rest. We threw away the nut shells, we now save for bas mask carbon. We peeled apples to see what mystic letters the peeling would make when thrown over the left shoulder. All of which are horrifying practices to us now in the days of food conservation.

At this 1918 Hallowe'en, do not use food for decoration or amusement. Have some fun, and have nuts and raisins to eat.

But after all, it's time for pumpkins, and even though we do not use them for lanterns, we can keep up the American liking for pumpkin pie, and have it, without a qualm of conscience. There is a recipe following the rules of the Food Administration exactly. It is one o four best patriotic winter deserts.

2 cups pumpkin.
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
2 eggs.
2 cups milk.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels — there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Mrs. Case Enjoys Work as "First Assistant."

Mrs. William Moll Case of Eugene, Oregon, the wife of the Rev. Mr. Case, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city, writes to friends in Maryville that Mr. Case is enjoying his work in France very, very much and that she, as first assistant in the Central Presbyterian church at Eugene of which Mr. Case is now pastor, is very busy and that their work is going on nicely. Mr. Case went to France several months ago to engage in Y. M. C. A. work and his wife, who is a very talented woman and fine singer and musician, was put in charge of the church work during her husband's absence. With the assistance of the laymen and others, regular services are being held and there has been no cessation in the church activities.

Miss Bedford took the place of Lee Richardson, who went to war.

Does Everyone Agree With Gertrude?

Miss Gertrude Fry, who writes the society column of The Mexico Ledger, leads off a recent article as follows: "The flu has knocked the society all to pieces this week. So there is nothing to do but gossip, I guess; but I can't do that, for there are no men near to tell me any, and you know the men are the ones that do all the gossiping." If that sort of thing goes on, the women will begin to make fun of men for being afraid of mice.

How to Use Vick's Vaporub in Treating Spanish Influenza

Tne Infuenza Germs Attacks the Lining of the Air Passages. When VapoRub is Applied Over Throat and Chest the Medicated Vapors Loosen the Phlegm, Open the Air Passages and Stimulate the Mucous Membrane to Throw Off the Germs.

IN ADDITION, VAPORUB IS ABSORBED THROUGH AND STIMULATES THE SKIN, ATTRACTING THE BLOOD TO THE SURFACE AND THUS AIDS IN REDUCING THE CONGESTION WITHIN.

CALL A PHYSICIAN—GO TO BED—STAY QUIET—DON'T WORRY.

There Is No Occasion for Panic—Influenza Itself has a Very Low Percentage of Fatalities, not over One Death Out of Every Four Hundred Cases, According to the N. C. Board of Health. The Chief Danger Lies in Complications Arising, Attacking Principally Patients in a Run Down Condition—Those Who Don't Go to Bed Soon Enough, or Those Who Get Up Too Early.

Spanish Influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, ha sall the appearance of grip or la grippe, which has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hoppocrates refers to an epidemic in 412 B. C. which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its attacks. Beginning with 1831, this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

THE SYMPTOMS.

Grip, or influenza as it is now called, usually begins with a chill followed by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness and depression. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germs attack the muceous membrane, or lining of the air passages — nose, throat and bronchial tubes—there is usually a hard cough, especially bad at night, often times a sore throat or tonsilitis, and frequently all the appearances of a severe head cold.

THE TREATMENT.

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake, but to avoid spreading the disease to others—take a purgative, eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, Aspirin or Dover's Powder, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the aching. But there is no cure or specific for influenza—the disease must run its course, but nature herself will throw off the attack if you only keep up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza so weakens the bodily resistance that there is danger of pneumonia or bronchitis developing and sometimes inflammation of the middle ear, or heart affections. For these reasons, it is very important that the patient remain in bed until his strength returns—stay in bed at least two days or more after the fever has left you, or if you are over 50 or not strong, stay in bed four days or more, according to the severity of the attack.

EXTERNAL APPLICATIONS

In order to stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the grip germs, to aid in loosening the phlegm and keeping the air passages open, thus making the breathing easier, Vick's VapoRub will be found effective. Hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then VapoRub should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red, spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, as the heat of the body liberates the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the parts affected. At the same time, VapoRub is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO AVOID THE DISEASE

Evidence seems to prove that this is a germ disease, spread principally by human contact, chiefly thru coughing, sneezing or spitting. So avoid persons having colds, which means avoiding crowds—common drinking cups, roller towels, etc. Keep up your bodily strength by plenty of exercise in the open air, and good food.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS

Above all, avoid colds, as cold irritate the lining of the air passages and render the mmuch better breeding places for the germs.

Use Vick's VapoRub at the very first sign of a cold. For a head cold, melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors, or better still, use VapoRub in a benzoin steam kettle. If this is not available, use an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling, and inhale the steam arising.

NOTE: Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist, who found how to combine in salve form Menthol and Camphor with such essential oils as Eucalyptus, Thyme, Cubebs, etc., so that when thesalve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated i nthe form of vapers.

VapoRub is comparatively new in New York, New England and a few western states, where it is just now being introduced. In other sections of the country, however, it is the standard home remedy in over a million homes for all forms of cold troubles—more than six million jars were sold last year.

It is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and, therefore, can be used as freely as desired without the slightest harmful effects. VapoRub can be had in three sizes—30c, 60c, $1.20—at all druggists. Adv.

LITTLE ONES WOULD INVENT

Might Be a Good Thing for Children If No Toys Could Be Bought for Them.

"No toys!" exclaims the fond and sympathetic mother, tragically, at the mere mention of the toy business being one of those in danger of being abolished as unnecessary during wartime. Oh, yes, little mother, there would be toys—but they would not be store toys. In fact, the children would invent and make a great many of them themselves. Dame Nature would lend a hand, and you could help a bit, too! There is no doubt that children must have toys of some sort—it is the very cry of their little souls. "Necessity is the mother of invention," so with dire necessity staring them in the face—a pressing demand with no supply—they would begin to invent. Moreover, being the work of their own little brains and hands, such toys would more easily please. Simple-minded and contented types of children would once again be the rule, not the exception. What has the nursery piled high with the latest and most expensive toys produced? Nothing but that contradiction of nature—the child with nothing left to wish for! What is there to stimulate his brains or his imagination? Everything has been thought out and imagined for him. No wonder at the age of seven or eight he finds life "stupid." But with nothing to play with would come the wonderful idea of making something.—Chicago News.

MYSTERY HOVERS OVER LAKE

Body of Water in Central Africa Has Most Curious Effect on Minds of Travelers.

Cold and gray are the waters which Lake Tchad spreads over the lowlands of central Africa. The traveler in Africa finds the mystery of the dark continent more haunting and unfathomable here than in the baffling mazes of the jungle or in the silent smile of the sphinx. Heavy winds toss the shallow waters about and whisper their secrets through the reeds. But the lake makes no answering confidences. It stretches on and on, measuring its miles of surface in sweeping wave lengths.

As far as the eye can see ahead are the reeds and rushes reaching up through the water in tangled masses. Here and there the line of the gray expanse is broken by slender islands bearing up a few round-topped native huts, outlined dimly against the skyline. The effect is that of a painting seen through gray glasses, reducing the whole to a low key. It is in the grayness that the lake's effect of mystery lies, the grayness that hovers dull and cheerless over waving reeds.

The traveler gazing across Lake Tchad for the first time feels the thrill of discovery. The knowledge that he is not the first to stand upon the banks does not dispel the feeling of entering the most shut-off place in central Africa.

Another "Scrap of Paper."

Twenty-seven years ago settlers at Olympia, Wash., made a treaty with the Indians allowing them to fish anywhere and at any time, says Commerce and Finance. Now the state game laws prohibit them from the sport during the closed season.

Saluskin, big chief of the Yakimas, with a number of other Indians, after protesting in vain to the local game wardens, went to the city to protest against the violation of their rights.

Imagine a chieftain, 90 years old, straight as an arrow, yet half blind and enfeebled, entering a court room in a modern city. This man had seen the victory of civilization in its struggle against the wilderness. He had seen his race pass control of the land to the white race. Still believing in the honor of the white man, he came to protest against the infringement of a treaty made a quarter of a century before.

Saluskin was informed by an interpreter that the district attorney could not change the state game laws.

"Hoh!" was his only comment.

Can't Even Have "Near-Beer."

Germany's brewers hoped this year to produce a beer substitute that should really resemble beer, but the Prussian minister of finance has issued a decree that puts an end to the dream of the foaming stein.

A new process has been patented by which near-beer was to be made from beetroot, hops, yeast and water. Many breweries had already installed machinery required under the patent.

The minister of finance has decided that the sugar of the beetroot, upon which the substitute depends for alcohol, cannot be spared for beer. Beets, he says, are badly needed for manufacture of sugar, dilution of jam and making of coffee substitutes.

Woman Frozen to Ground.

During a cold snap last winter Mrs. John Baker of Downsville took a bucket of hot water and went into the yard to clean the concrete pavement. She splashed the water around and used the broom vigorously, when suddenly she realized she could not move. She made determined efforts to move her feet, and experienced a fearful cold chill as thoughts of paralysis flashed into her mind. She screamed loudly for help, and her husband, who came running, found her shoes were frozen to the pavement.

With a vigorous jerk he yanked her loose, almost pulling her out of her shoes. It was a thankful wife he led into the house to warm her feet.

BOY SCOUTS

FRANCE SENDS SCOUT CABLE

Foreign Minister Pichon has sent this message to the Boy Scouts of America:

"French boy scout organizations are now united in a federation. Wednesday I presented a message to the federation. In his address General De Berckheim said our officers and soldiers show the result of scout training; their strength comes from their spirit. They would like to have our soldiers act here as scoutmasters in towns where they are located. Boy scouts here are always on duty and in uniform. Government is preparing a general system of physical and moral training along scout lines. Meeting ordered the following message to be cabled you:

"'Les Eclaireurs de France and Les Eclaireurs Unionistes de France Federated have been thrilled by the message conveyed to them by Mr. Macfarland in behalf of the Boy Scouts of America. Thankful from deeply moved hearts they send you their greetings and respond with the cry, "American and France onward together until final victory." General de Berckheim, president de la Federation Francaise des Eclaireurs.' Minister of War sent Commandant Royal as special representative to meeting."

CANADA SCOUTS VISIT U. S.

Four Patrol Leaders Tour East on Bicycles and Camp Out.

Four Canadian scouts, all belonging to Troop No. 8 of Ottawa, are in New York city on a well-earned sightseeing trip. They came all the way on their bicycles, except for the boat trip down the Hudson. The scouts made the money for their journey by their farm work in the Ontario fields.

They left Ottawa at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, August 20, and arrived in New York Monday, August 26, and the first thing they wanted to see was the transports that are taking the American forces across. They returned to Ottawa by way of Boston and Ogdensburg. The scouts are Troop Leader W. Rupert Esdale, Arthur C. Pennington, H. Robert Quinney and Thomas M. Cramp, the three latter being patrol leaders. The Canadian scouts all had the red 1914 badge for having taken active part in war work. Their sleeves were covered with merit badges and their shirts with badges showing their rank.

During the hottest part of the warm weather eight scouts of Troop No. 5 of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., made a gypsy hike with their trek-cart over the 113 miles from that city to New York. They did it in five days, this being an average of about 22 miles per day.

They carried on their trek-cart their full camp equipment, and slept out under the trees at night and cooked all their meals by day. Although the thermometer went up to 100 degrees, they made this record progress, and all arrived in fine shape, looking trim and fit and with a fine color of tan.

INFLUENZA WORSE THAN HUN RULLETS

Claiming More Victims Than Battle Fronts of Europe—Disease Can Be Avoided.

According to carefully compiled statistics it is an indisputable fact that the Spanish Influenza Epidemic which is now sweeping all parts of the country is daily claiming far more victims than German bullets on the battle fronts of Europe. Although civil and military authorities have succeeded in checking the disease in some localities, it is growing worse in others and continues to spread at an alarming rate. That the disease can be avoided there is no longer any doubt. According to leading authorities the powers of resistance of the human system can be so perfected that it can throw off almost any infection, not even excepting Spanish Influenza, which is one of the most contagious diseases known.

It is persons who are suffering from lowered vitality, who are weak and rundown and who have not the strength to throw it off who are the earliest victims. Persons who have bad colds, who are suffering from catarrhal troubles, or inflammation of the mucous membranes are especially susceptible, as the inflamed mucous membrane linings of the nose and throat are an open door to the germs. This condition is almost always accompanied by a weakened condition of the system.

If you are suffering from any of these symptoms nothing on earth will build you up and strengthen you like Tanlac, which contains the most powerful tonic properties known to science.

This statement is easily proven by the fact that Tanlac is now having the greatest sale of any system tonic in the history of medicine. In less than four years time over ten million bottles have been sold and the demand is constantly increasing. Thousands are using it daily for the above troubles with the most astonishing and gratifying results.

Tanlac increases your strength and weight and creates a good, healthy appetite for nourishing food. It keeps you physically fit and helps every organ of the body perform its proper function in the natural way.

In connection with the Tanlac treatment be sure and keep the bowels open by taking Tanlac Laxative Tablets, samples of which are included in every bottle.

Tanlac is sold in Maryville by the Koch Pharmacy. Adv. 25-28

MILITARY MEN AND SCOUTS

The constitution of the Boy Scouts of America reads as follows:

"In carrying out the purpose of the boy scout movement technical military training and drill shall not be included for the reason that they are not equal in value or as suitable for boys of scout age, in training for good citizenship, as the program of scout activities."

This reflects the attitude of the founder of the Boy Scout association of England as well as those who have promoted genuine scouting in the United States of America. This policy has the unqualified support of both military and educational authorities here and abroad. There has been no request from military authorities or others holding positions of responsibility for the training of the youth of our country to make any change in the program or policy of the Boy Scouts of America, and no change is contemplated.

The official scout handbooks have since the publication of the first editions contained what is believed to be the basis for adequate instruction for the drilling and handling of troops of boy scouts. The purpose of the drill prescribed is to give unity of action, discipline, proper posture, as well as to facilitate the handling of scouts in groups.

DRAFT LAW AFFECTS SCOUTS

The change in the draft law so as to include all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five will affect many troops of scouts. It behooves all, in accordance with the motto, "Be Prepared," to take steps to insure the continuance of every troop of scouts.

This can be done if scout officials will immediately give definite attention to discovering men of character to serve as scoutmasters and assistant scoutmasters in the place of those who will be called to the colors by the new draft law.

Those who are not clearly within the requirements of the law are urged to bear in mind that they have a responsibility as scout officials to help maintain as strong a leadership as possible for the Boy Scouts of America at this critical period in the world's history.

Every man who can continue his activity should be willing not only to do as he has before, but also to help in providing leadership to other troops or in strengthening the work of the local council in such way as may be within his power.

SCOUTS USE A TREK CART.

Some people insist that a camping hike isn't the real thing unless the hiker carries his own equipment on his back. Of course, for the real wilderness outings, where there are neither roads nor trails, that sort of thing is necessary, but 99 out of every 100 scouts take their outings through country where it will be easy to pull a trek cart. And the exercise of the trip will be strenuous enough without adding the burden of pack sack.

As for getting a trek cart, there isn't a troop that couldn't rig one up in short order and at little expense. A pair of stout wheels can be obtained from almost any blacksmith or cooper shop, and it is a simple matter to fit on a strong wooden box. Add a tongue with handles or ropes to pull it by and a canvas cover to keep out rain, and the rig is ready for service.

Carrying space in a trek cart is limited and one will have to cut out nonessentials. Campers will need a tent and blankets, a cooking outfit, a first-aid kit, hand ax, plenty of extra rope, a lantern, a box of "chuck," tent pegs, a spade for ditching and digging latrines, and of course, each scout's personal outfit. This should consist of toilet articles, materials for mending, and a complete change of clothing.

Rheumatism Back on the Job With its Old-time Fury

No Let-Up In Its Torture.

Pretty soon you will be reaching for the liniment bottle again, for the millions of little pain demons that cause Rheumatism are on the warpath. Winter weather seems to awaken them to renewed fury.

But your Rheumatism cannot be rubbed away, because liniments and lotions cannot reach the disease. It is in the blood, and only a remedy that goes deep down into the circulation, and routs out the disease germs, can rid you of this disabling disease.

S. S. S. has given some wonderful results in treating Rheumatism. Being a purely vegetable blood remedy, it purifies the blood of every germ, and thus removes the cause of Rheumatism. Get a bottle to-day at your drugstore, and start on the right treatment that will get results. Free advice about your case can be had by writing to Medical Director, 26 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Public Notice

To any person that wants to make more money, come to Wyoming and buy you a farm where the crop in one year will pay for the land and where one acre put in potatoes will pay for five acres at the present price; where you and your family will be healthy and you are sure to prosper if you work and try like you have to in Missouri. Now I know what I am saying, as I lived here in good old Missouri for 18 years and always tried hard to get us a home, but when I left here three years ago I owed over $1,600.00 of debts here that I could not pay, but have paid them since I went to Wyoming. I am only telling you this to encourage you to come. We have good schools good churches, good water and climate, and as good people as you can find anywhere. I have land I can sell from $15.00 per acre up to $50.00 per acre. Close to two good railroads. Have got a 2,400 acre ranch at $25.00 per acre that is sure a bargain.

Now the first reason I want you to come to Wyoming is, because if you come and buy a farm I get a small commission out of it, but that is not the best reason. I know I will be doing you a favor and know you will always be glad you come. Now, in case some stranger to me should read this ad. I will give you as reference some of the best men in Nodaway County or any other county. In Parnell, Mo., W. N. Morgan, C. C. Evans, A. J. Roof, Bill Jackson; Ravenwood, Mo., S. E. Wells, V. O. Hunt and James Barber; Barnard, Mo., George Cole, banker; Gaynor City, Mo., Charlie Lewis; Sheridan, Mo., C. C. Hall; Hopkins, Mo., Albert Mutti; Maryville, Mo., Nathaniel Sisson, U. S. Wright, Henry Wright, James Robinson. For any information about this county, if you can't see me when I am here, write me at Carpenter, Wyo. I took three men out with me two weeks ago and sold all three a farm. Would be glad to have you talk to any of these men: Cecil Talkington of Parnell or Elmer Talkington and Pete Mumford of Bedford, Iowa. We raise corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, speltz, flax, millet, cane and potatoes, alfalfa and good gardens. Poultry of all kinds do well. Stock of all kinds do well, especially hogs, as hog cholera is unknown.

The only way you can realize what a good county we have is to come and see it. For further information, write—

THE BLUE TRIANGLE ON BABEL'S TOWER

Lucia pulled her shawl farther across her face and shrank down on the station platform bench as the solid blue figure suddenly bent down over her. Excitedly she shook her head in answer to the question that she could not understand. She searched through her red plaid waist for the paper that Tony had folded into a little square and given to her. The writing on it, in the English that Tony knew and she did not, told the house where she lived. Tony had explained it all to her that morning. He had told it to her again at the station. Then, waving his hat, he had disappeared into the train with the rest of the men, and Lucia had been left standing oueside the gate. There were crowds of women pushing all about her. They were weeping. So Lucia wept, too.

Lucia had been betrothed to Tony in the old country. Five years before, with a long ticket for New York pinned into his inside pocket, her lover had left her. He wrote in every letter that he had made her a home in the new country. Her dowry money had finally provided her own transportation, and for two months Tony and she had been married. Then he had drawn a ticket with a number on it, and this morning he had gone off to war.

To the policeman Lucia told all these things in rapid Italian. But the policeman only talked back to her as rapidly in a language that was not Italian. She followed him dumbly to headquarters. An hour later a woman wearing American clothes gently began talking to her in beautiful Italian.

Italian Lucia was only one of thousands of foreign-born women. Syrians, Italians, Armenians, Russians, Lithuanians, Polish, who, when the draft called their men folk to the American colors, asked in helpless confusion what it was all about. When would their men be back? What did people mean when they told them they would receive money through the mail? Where could they find work that they knew how to do? Was there no one who could explain it all to them in their own language?

The Y. W. C. A. was ready to offer assistance, but it would be of no value to offer it in English. Consequently it had to supply a corps of women who could talk to the foreign-born woman at her own door in the language that she was used to hearing in the homeland. To teach her English was as essential a factor in her Americanization as to find her a job. Therefore the war council of the Y. W. C. A. set out to find her English.

A year before the war began in Europe, the leaders of the Young Woman's Christian association foresaw just such a situation, and made ready to meet it. They studied the needs of the immigrant. They trained skilled American social workers to become familiar with the home habits and to speak the language of the Lett and the Hungarian and the Greek and the other foreign mothers who brought babies and bundles over from Ellis island to Battery park.

The organization into which this experiment has developed was named by the Y. W. C. A. national board, "The International Institute for Young Women." In terms which these women can understand, it is teaching the foreign-born how to sew and cook and care for the baby.

To girls like Italian Lucia, who confusedly lingered on the station platforms when the draft trains pulled out, the W. Y. C. A. is giving direct assistance. Educated European women, appointed to the regular staff of workers at the camp Y. W. C. A. Hostess Houses are able to talk to the drafted men in their own language, assist them in writing letters home, and in arranging furloughs and little visits to the camp.

"The Home Information Service for Foreign Families of Enlisted Men" is doing practical relief work for the wives and mothers. The purpose of the board is to help the women folk left behind to understand where their boys are and how they are being treated; how they need home support and cheer, how to send them comforts, and to keep pace themselves by learning English and other things, so that when the boys come home they will not find their women still very un-American and out of sympathy with them.

Food conservation bulletins have been translated into 18 or 19 languages. At the factories and munition plants interpreters are available for the non-English speaking women by whom the real war industries of the country are being largely carried on. In 25 important cities International Institute Bureaus are training American and foreign women for full time social service work with foreigners. Twenty-four trained women are employed on the national and district field staff of the Y. W. C. A. On June 15 there were 105 trained women working at Americanization.

When more than 75,000 Chicago men filled out their blue cards for the September 12 draft, Gang Luo Wong appeared at one precinct bringing with him Mrs. Gang Wong and the three children. All five wished to register. The enrolling clerk explained, but the Gang Luo Wongs make many broken Chinese remonstrances before the master of the family was induced to sign a card without his wife. Mrs. Wong could not speak English. What would his family do in a strange country if Gang Luo went to war? All over the United States Chinese and Poles and Serbs were asking the same question. It is to just such needs that the War Council of the Y. M. C. A. is organized to give assistance.

GARMENT BADGE OF IDLENESS

Real Significance of Joseph's "Coat of Many Colors" May Not Be Generally Understood.

Do you know the real reason why Joseph's brethren hated him and sold him to a band of Ishmaelites and into slavery, and after first deciding to slay him?

You remember the story in Genesis—which, by the way, is the most interesting book in the Bible—that Joeph's father gave him a "coat of many colors."

The father did not give the other brothers coats of many colors, for, as stated in the story, he loved him more than the others.

Now here is the real reason Joseph was hated:

"A coat of many colors" of that time, in the land of Canaan and adjoining civilizations, was a badge of idleness.

The sleeves of a coat of many colors came down almost to the finger tips to indicate that the wearer did no manual labor.

As late as the French revolution in Europe, and even in our Colonial time here in America, certain gentlemen wore lace on their coat sleeves that covered their hands, thereby indicating that so far as they were concerned there was "nothing doing" in the way of actual work.—Cottrell's Magazine.

FAMOUS OLD MIDDLE TEMPLE

Historic London Edifice Contains Actual Stage on Which Shakespeare Acted Before Queen Elizabeth.

The hall of the Middle temple, London, contains a table made from a tree presented by Queen Elizabeth.

The top is 30 feet long and 3 inches thick and forms "the high table" for the Benchers of the Inn. The dais on which it stands is at the western end of the hall, and on the actual floor boards of this platform Shakespeare performed "Twelfth Night" for the entertainment of "the Virgin Queen," who opened the hall in 1572.

The eastern end of the hall is occupied by a magnificent carved screen, finished in 1574, the upper part of which forms the Minstrels' gallery.

The walls of the hall are paneled to a great height, and both the panels and windows above are richly emblazoned with the coats of arms, dating from the sixteenth century, of legal luminaries, members of the inn. Among them may be observed the arms of Sir Walter Raleigh, Pepys and of the present lord chancellor and the present lord chief justice of England. Portraits by Vandyk, Lely, Kneller and Murray, together with suits of well-preserved armor, greatly add to the mural adornment of this historic edifice.

Interested in Strangers.

Many of the native customs mentioned by "Merrigal" as Samoan or Melanesian seem to be observed all over the western Pacific, the Sydney (Australia) Bulletin says. The extreme deference to the chiefs was practiced by the Maoris and Fijians particularly. In Papua the Trobriand natives are the only tribe with any regard for the claims of high descent. They never stand in a chief's presence, much less walk past him. The custom of placing a stone in a leaf on a path as a "no thoroughfare" sign is common in Papua.

A favorite trick there is to knot a vine or long grass across the tracks as a warning to go back. The northeastern Papuan welcomes a visitor by feeling over and pinching the caller's arms and trunk, remarking at the same time what splendid condition he's in. Coming from a people who have been and are, when they get a chance, unblushing cannibals, this is rather disconcerting, however complimentary.

Creatures of Habit.

The Olean (N. Y.) Times headlines it this way: "Twins Born Seven Times in One Street." The news fills us with amazement and tempts us to philosophize. Amazement, because twins should like being born so well that they repeat the act seven times; to philosophize on the force of habit which makes them continually choose the same street as the scene of their natal encores. It seems to us that if we were twins with an incurable birth habit, we should desire a bit of variety. Having been born once in Olean, we should yearn for some different place for our next debut; we should try to be born in China, in France, in Salamanca, in Cattaraugus, in Indiana, at Aurora Pond.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What Old Glory Means.

When you hang out the colors spare a minute to think of it—of the places it has been, of the things it means.

It has given new hope to the proud and to the poor everywhere in this world. It is the symbol and the achievement of the two noblest human attributes—strength and compassion. It springs from the enduring good that is in the heart of humanity. It stands for the liberation of all men.

And it can never fail, it can never be humbled, because that motive lies deep in every human consciousness, as permanent, as sure, as inevitable as tears or laughter or hope or faith in God.—Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger.

BOY SCOUTS

HOW ALASKA SCOUTS

To be apportioned $12,000 in a Liberty loan campaign and to wind up the drive with $67,000 is a pretty big record. Yet there's a scout troop which did this very thing. Up in Fairbanks, Alaska, it wasn't pleasant weather when the last Liberty loan campaign began. Trails were almost impassable, and driving storms and bitter winds came every day.

But the troop in Fairbanks came forward 100 per cent strong. There were 35 boys in Troop No. 1 and their apportionment for the campaign was first put at $12,000. A huge clock was made to indicate their progress.

But on the very first day they "busted" the clock, for they obtained subscriptions amounting to more than double that amount. Then the clock was put at $30,000. Local Liberty loan officials were positive the troop could go no farther by hook or crook. But the end of the campaign saw them, not at $30,000 but at $67,100, which represented half the total subscriptions obtained in the whole district. And it was really $69,100, if we count a $2,000 subscription one man asked to be allowed to make in recognition of their work.

SCOUT WEARING 31 BADGES.

Lewis Kayton of Texas Is After a West Point Entrance Ticket.

There are very few boys of seventeen among the Boy Scouts of America who can come up to the record of Lewis Kayton, a first-class scout of San Antonio, Tex., who has just visited national headquarters in New York city.

Scout Kayton was seventeen years old last May and has earned 31 merit badges of the Boy Scouts of America. He had begun preparing to enter scouting long before he was twelve years old, the age it is necessary for a boy to reach before he can become a Boy Scout of America. He was attached to a San Antonio troop for several months before he reached the age of twelve and was initiated into the troop on his twelfth birthday.

He is determined to get an appointment to the West Point Military Academy. When he found that the congressional appointments for Texas had all been made he started on a personal campaign to secure entrance to West Point, and to further his ambition he will go to Washington.

BEAUTY OF SCOUT SCHEME.

The wider your range of interest the greater is your capability for enjoyment, says Scout Commissioner Dan Beard.

Put in another way, the more things that interest you the more fun you have. And to that may be added, the more things you enjoy the more alive you are.

If a fellow loves woodcraft, athletics, sailing, canoeing, natural history, botany, fresh air, mountains and streams, he is alive to all these things and he has more sources for fun, enjoyment or pleasure than other fellows.

Now, then, the beauty of the scout scheme is that a "regular feller" among the scouts is a live wire and can have a good time wherever you place him. That, for instance, is the reason the old scouts of the Camp Fire Club of America enjoy themselves so much and have such bully times.

ROOSEVELT TO THE SCOUTS.

The boy scout movement is distinctly an asset to our country for the development of efficiency, virility and good citizenship, says Colonel Roosevelt.

It is essential that its leaders be men of strong, wholesome character, of unmistakable devotion to our country, its customs and ideals, as well as in soul and by law citizens thereof, whose whole-hearted loyalty is given to this nation and to this nation alone.
